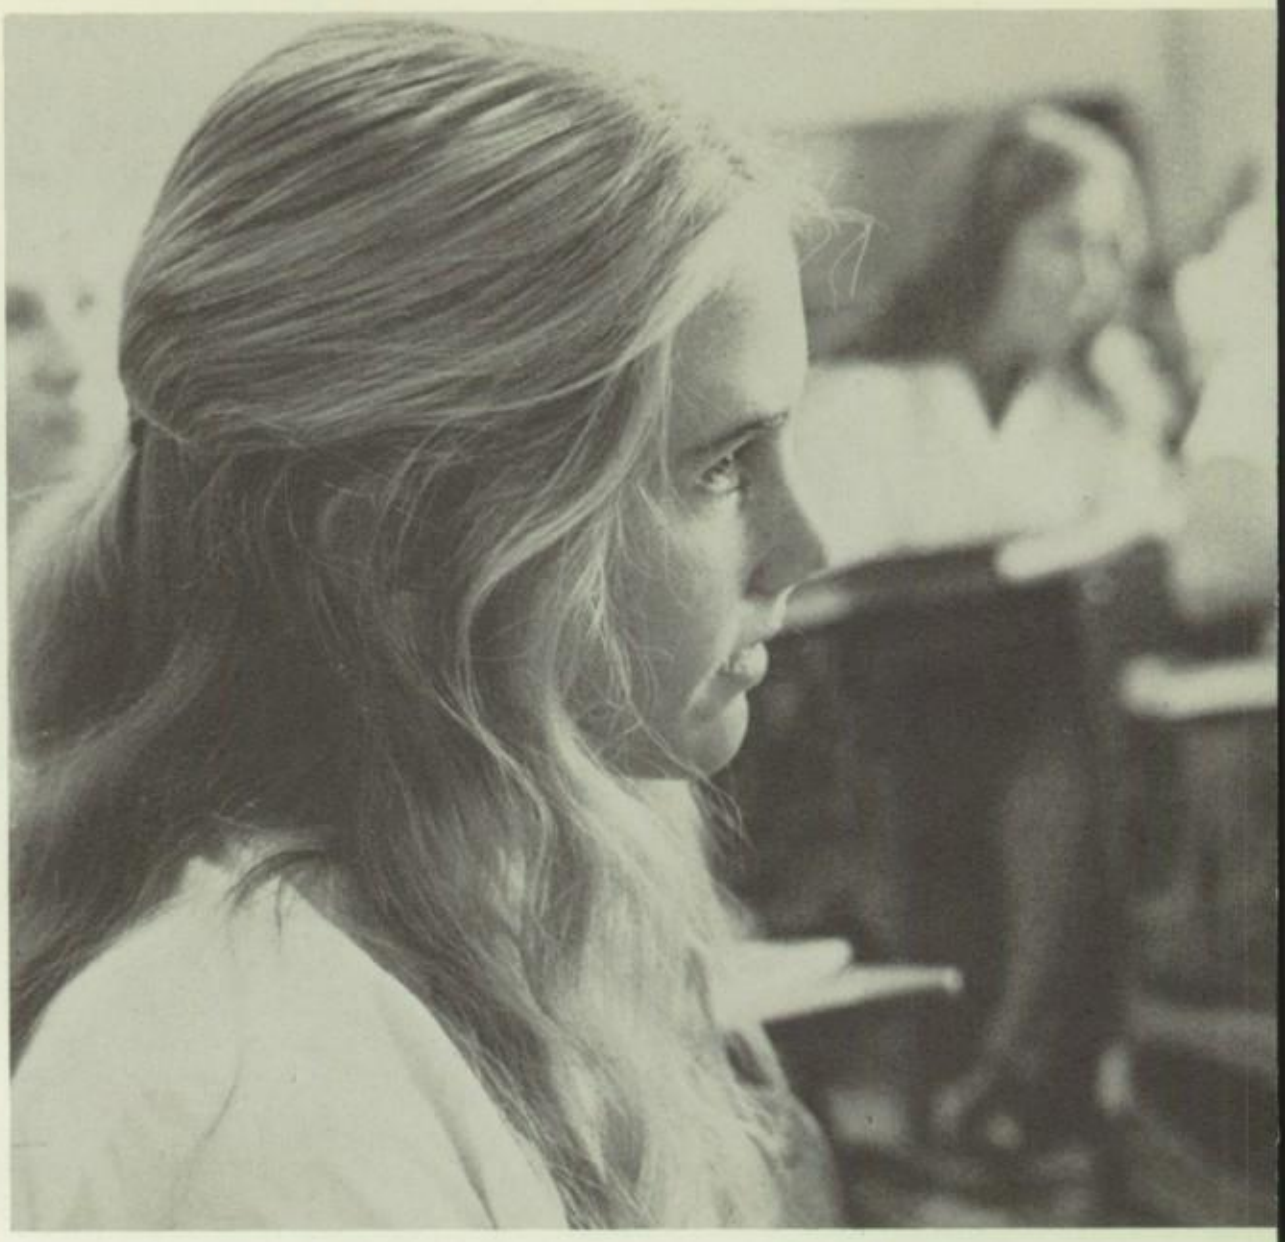
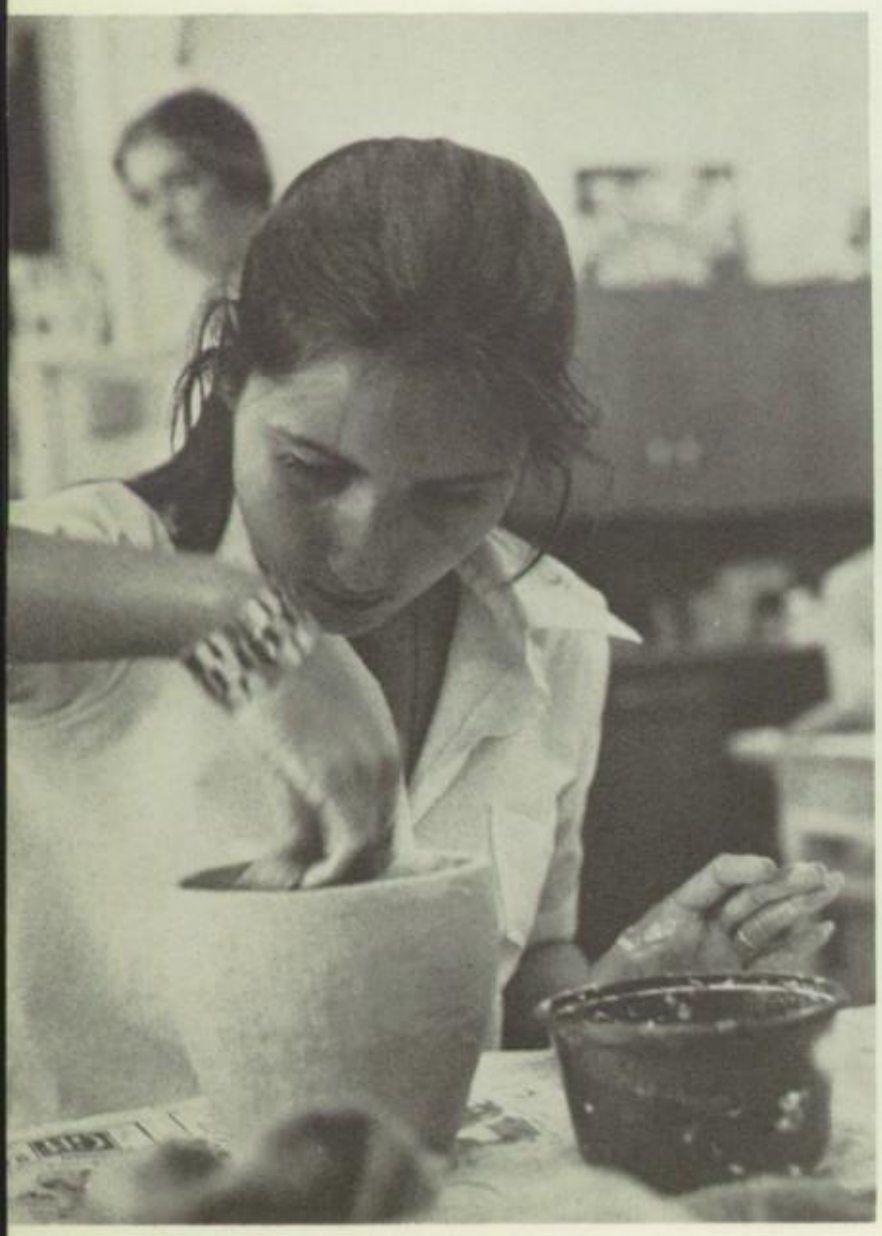
When, years from now, your mind wanders back to Xavier High School, 1974.

Remember us, your friends





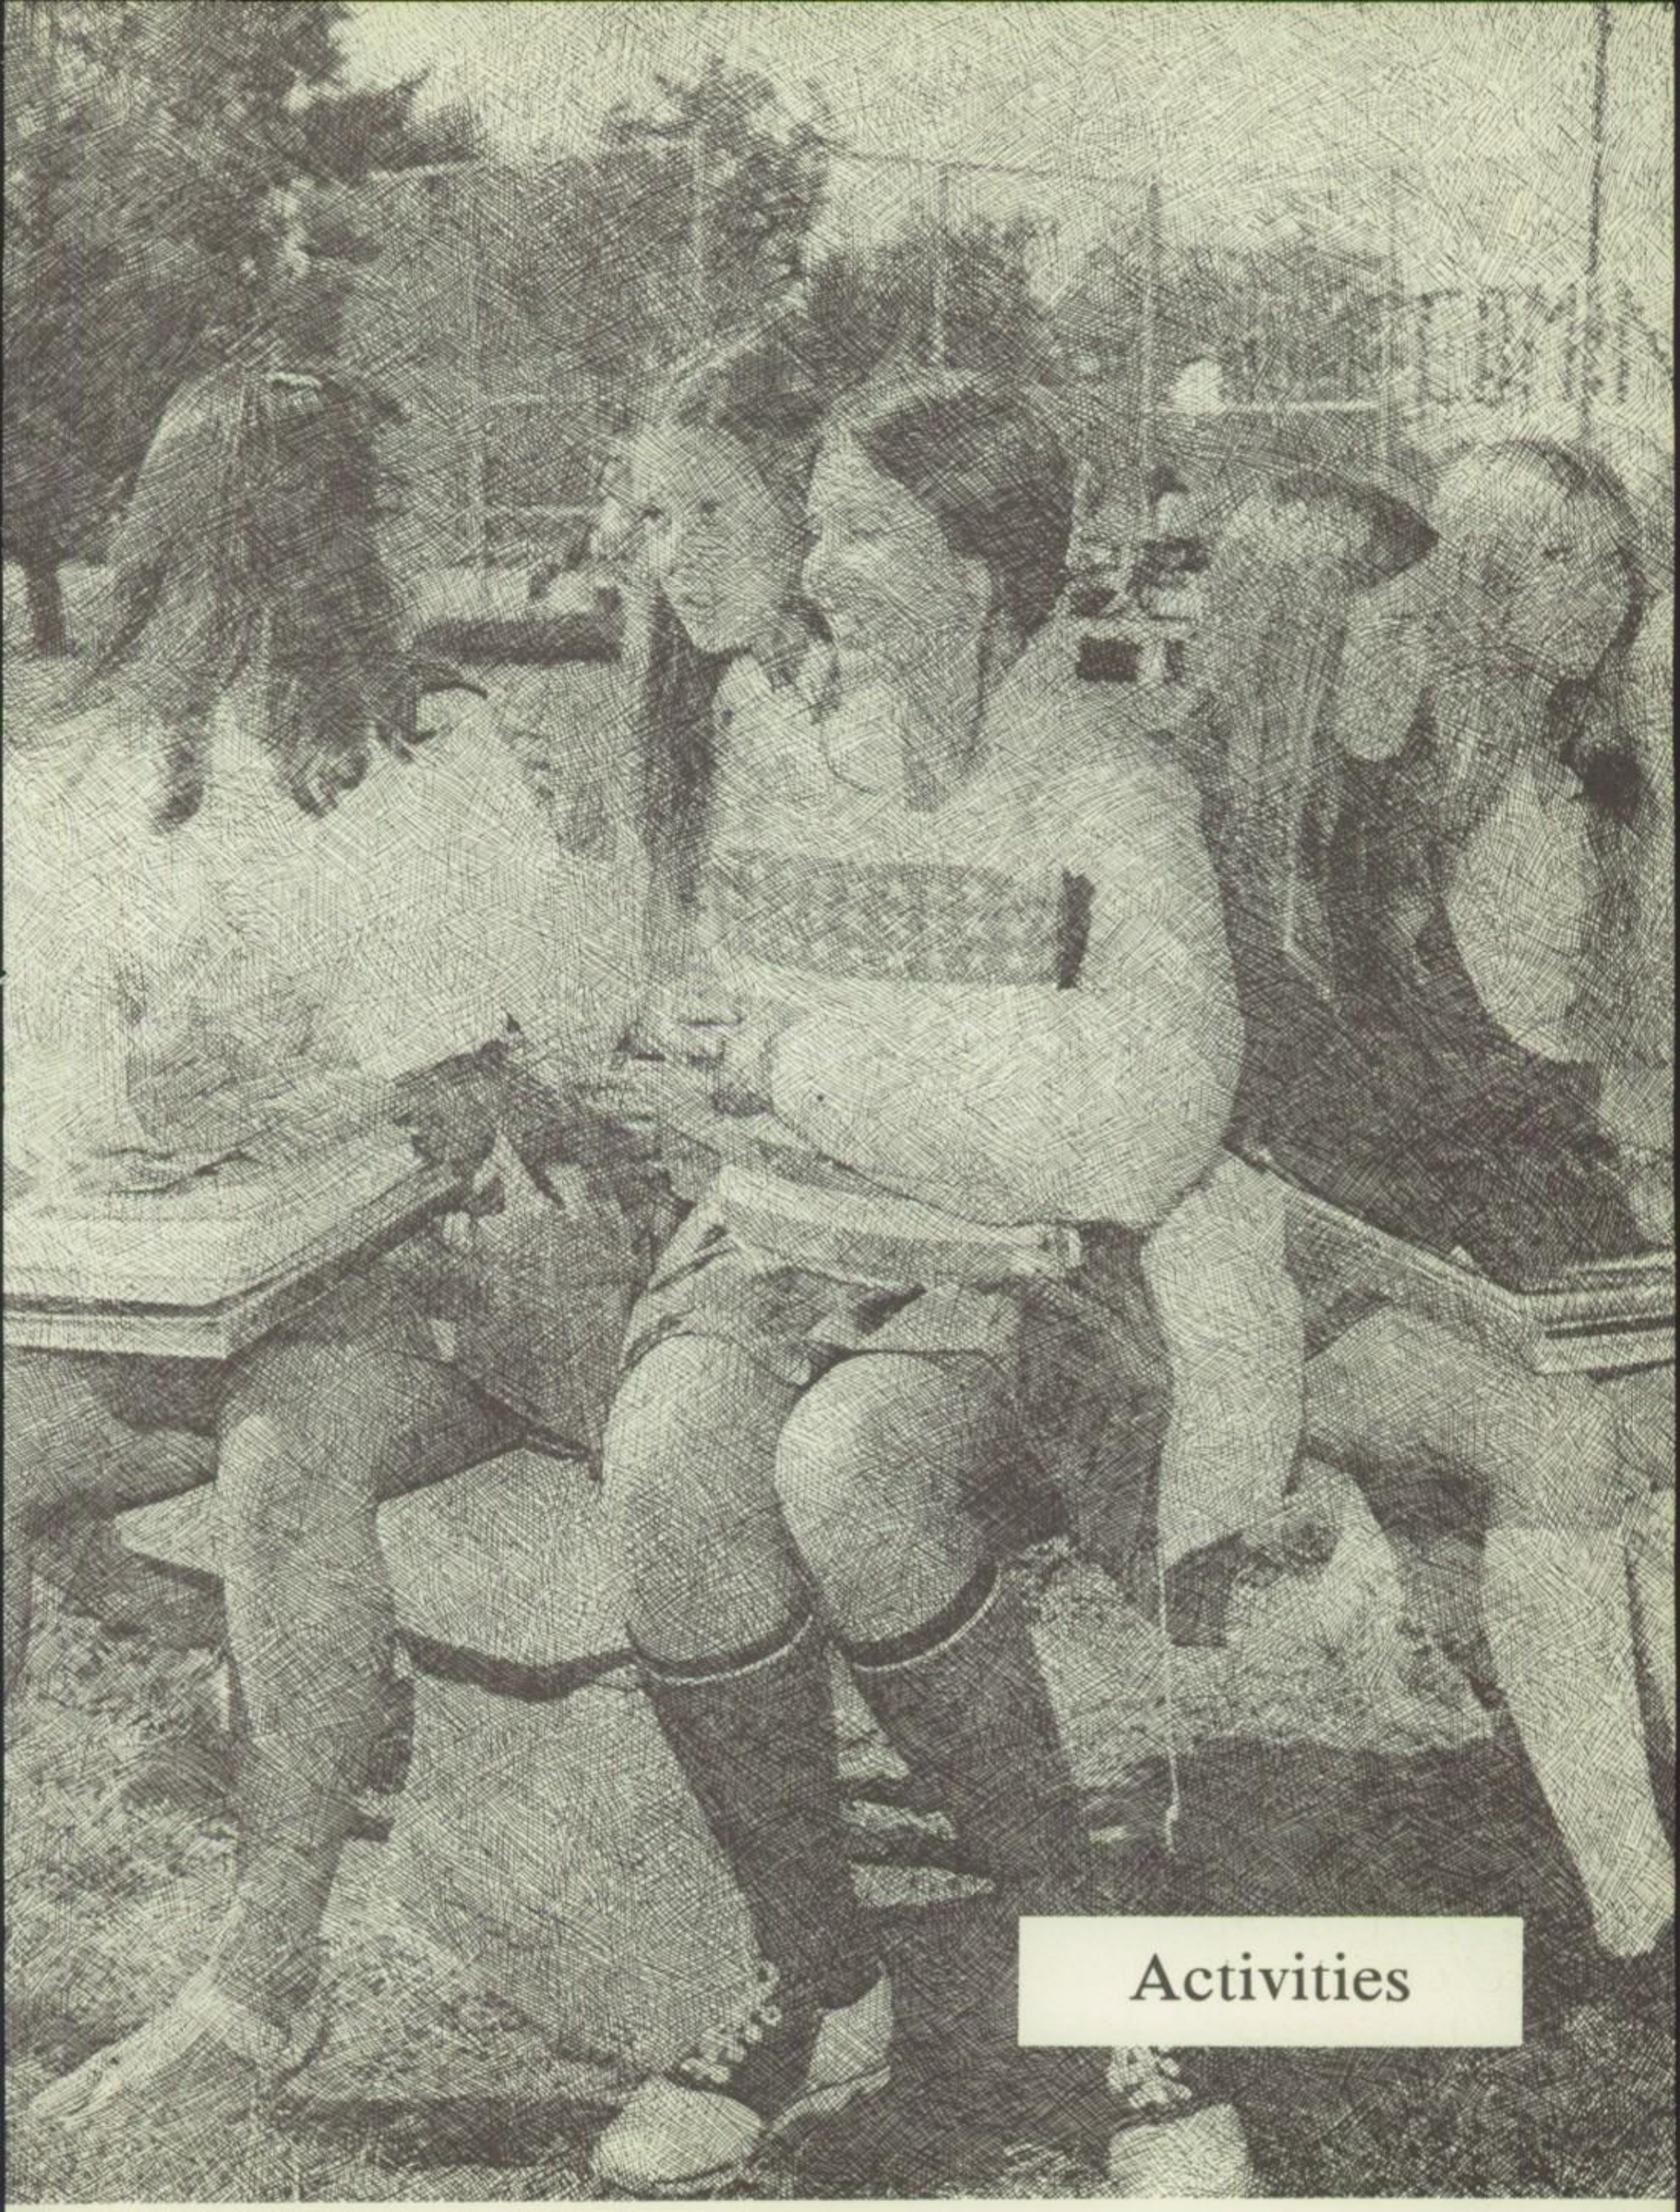
Remember that special friend who was always right beside you, and tried her best to cheer you up when you thought your world was shattering. She sat and listened intently as you rambled on about things that no one else could possibly be interested in.

The day everything fell apart, you just wanted to cry...and she let you.

When it seemed the world was against you, your friend was there to defend you, stand beside you, and be your ever-present moral support. She spoke in your behalf whether she agreed or not and she told you what was best for you.

It all took time

Time taken out of her life and put into yours. Time in which you could work and learn to love one another.



Activities

Recalling days spent together
I could not say whether they were right or wrong,
Only that I remember.
Games we played were quite unique
No others have been that deep
Have had no winners, But felt defeat.
Paths we walked were never narrow,
Always wide and room to grow
Your life and mine.
We had it so.
Life was loved as we lived
We never questioned what we did,
Or felt a weight we'd like to rid.
Recalling days spent together
I could not say whether they were right or wrong,
Only that I remember.

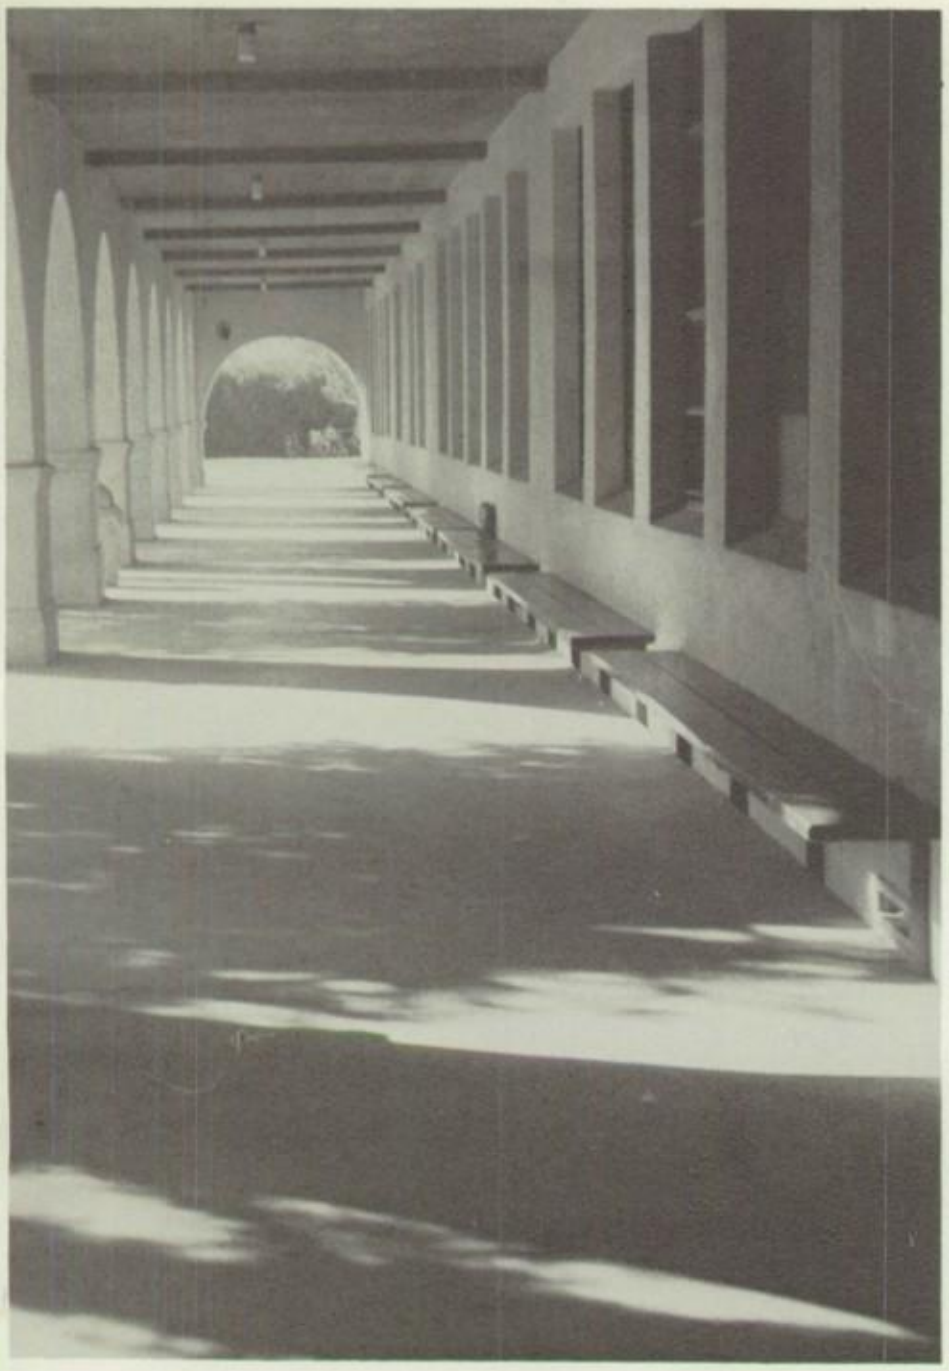
Claire Nair,

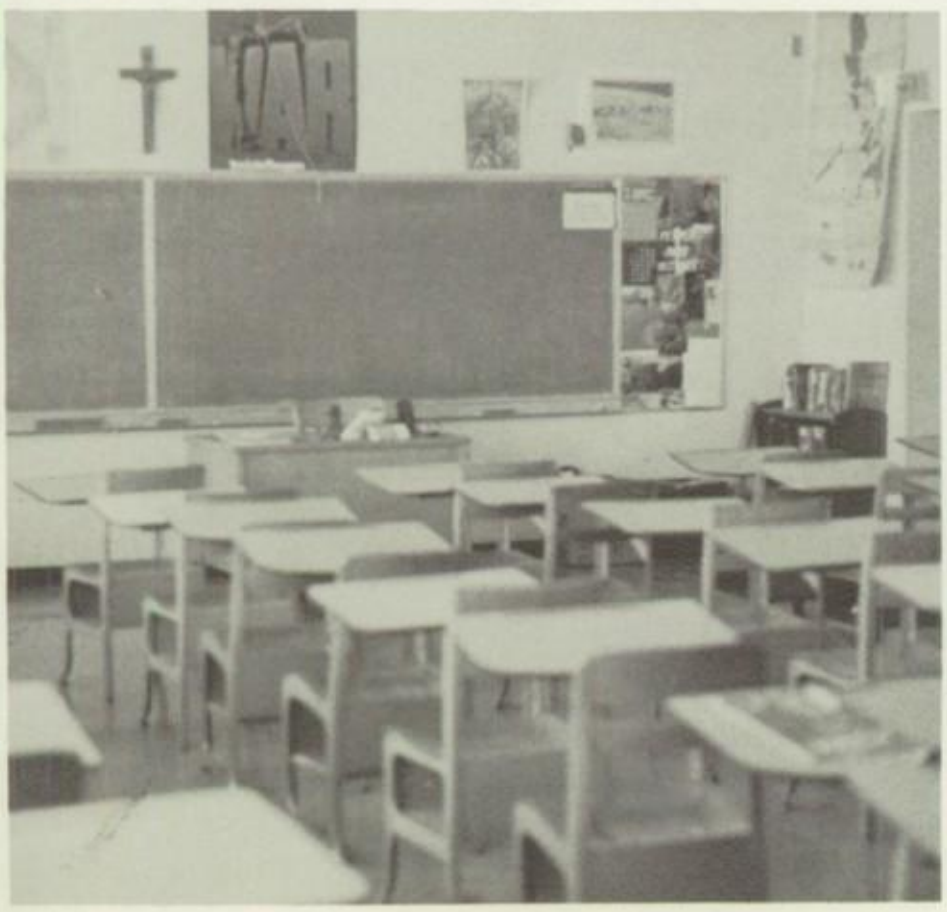
I hope that in the future you may refrain from your grotesque form of laughter. After all it is a very distracting form of entertainment. I hope that some day you really get it on with "David Bowie" (Ralph). It has really rather strange knowing you but a hell of a lot of fun.

Good luck in future years

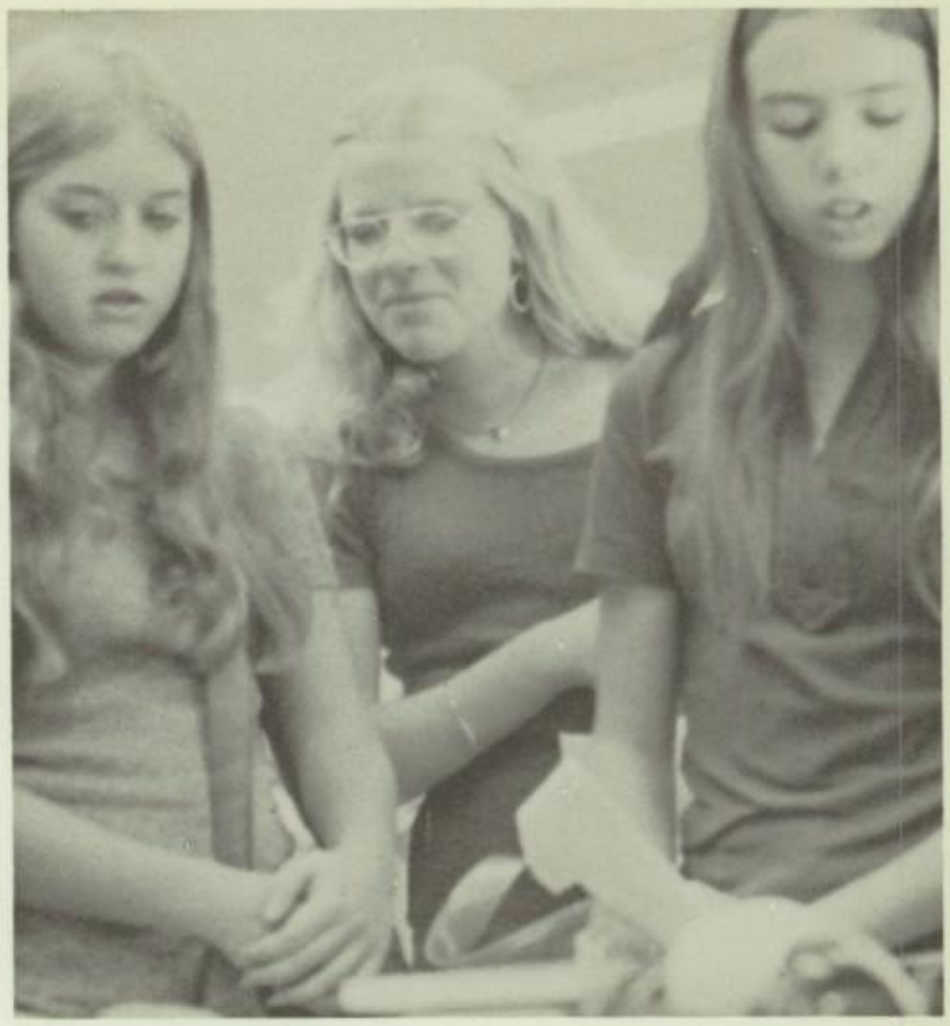
Cheryl

Empty places await new faces





Memories of freshman week



"My first few days were scary. I wasn't sure what I was supposed to do or how I was supposed to act. Then a senior approached me and told me I was her little sister. For a week after that, I was forced to wear all sorts of weird attire and do embarrassing things. Although this made me feel very silly, I had a secure and welcome feeling.

Now that I am a part of Xavier I realize that initiation wasn't that bad. As a matter of fact it was a lot of fun. Out of it all, I have gained some life-long friends."

Freshmen get it together at the Frosh Mixer

"Come to the frosh mixer! This is your chance to meet some of those darling Brophy boys!" Xavier's senior class officers, along with Brophy's Student Council, publicized this long known statement. So the freshmen went to the mixer with dreams of leaving with a boyfriend, little did they know.

The music was good, thanks to Tim Sterling and Company, the food was delightful (if you like hot dogs). The swimming pool was refreshing (to the three boys who indulged—needless to say no girls). The typical scene: — boys next to the food stand—girls next to the dance floor, waiting to be asked.

But all in all it was really fun. It "broke the ice" so to speak and there were a few budding romances as a result. Another result—100 left over hot dogs! The frosh mixer is undoubtedly one of the greatest events of the high school years.

Bishop dedicates Lutfy Hall

Bishop Edward McCarthy came to Xavier to bless and dedicate our new building, and give out honors and awards.

Cecelia Zeleski presented a flag donated by her parents in memory of their son, Philip, who was killed in Vietnam.

Scholastic awards were presented after a talk on youth involvement by the Bishop. Many sophomores, juniors, and seniors received honors for perfect attendance, language proficiency and science accomplishments.

A ceremony was held that evening. Jessie Garcia, Ann Causey, and Martha Rodriguez were hostesses.

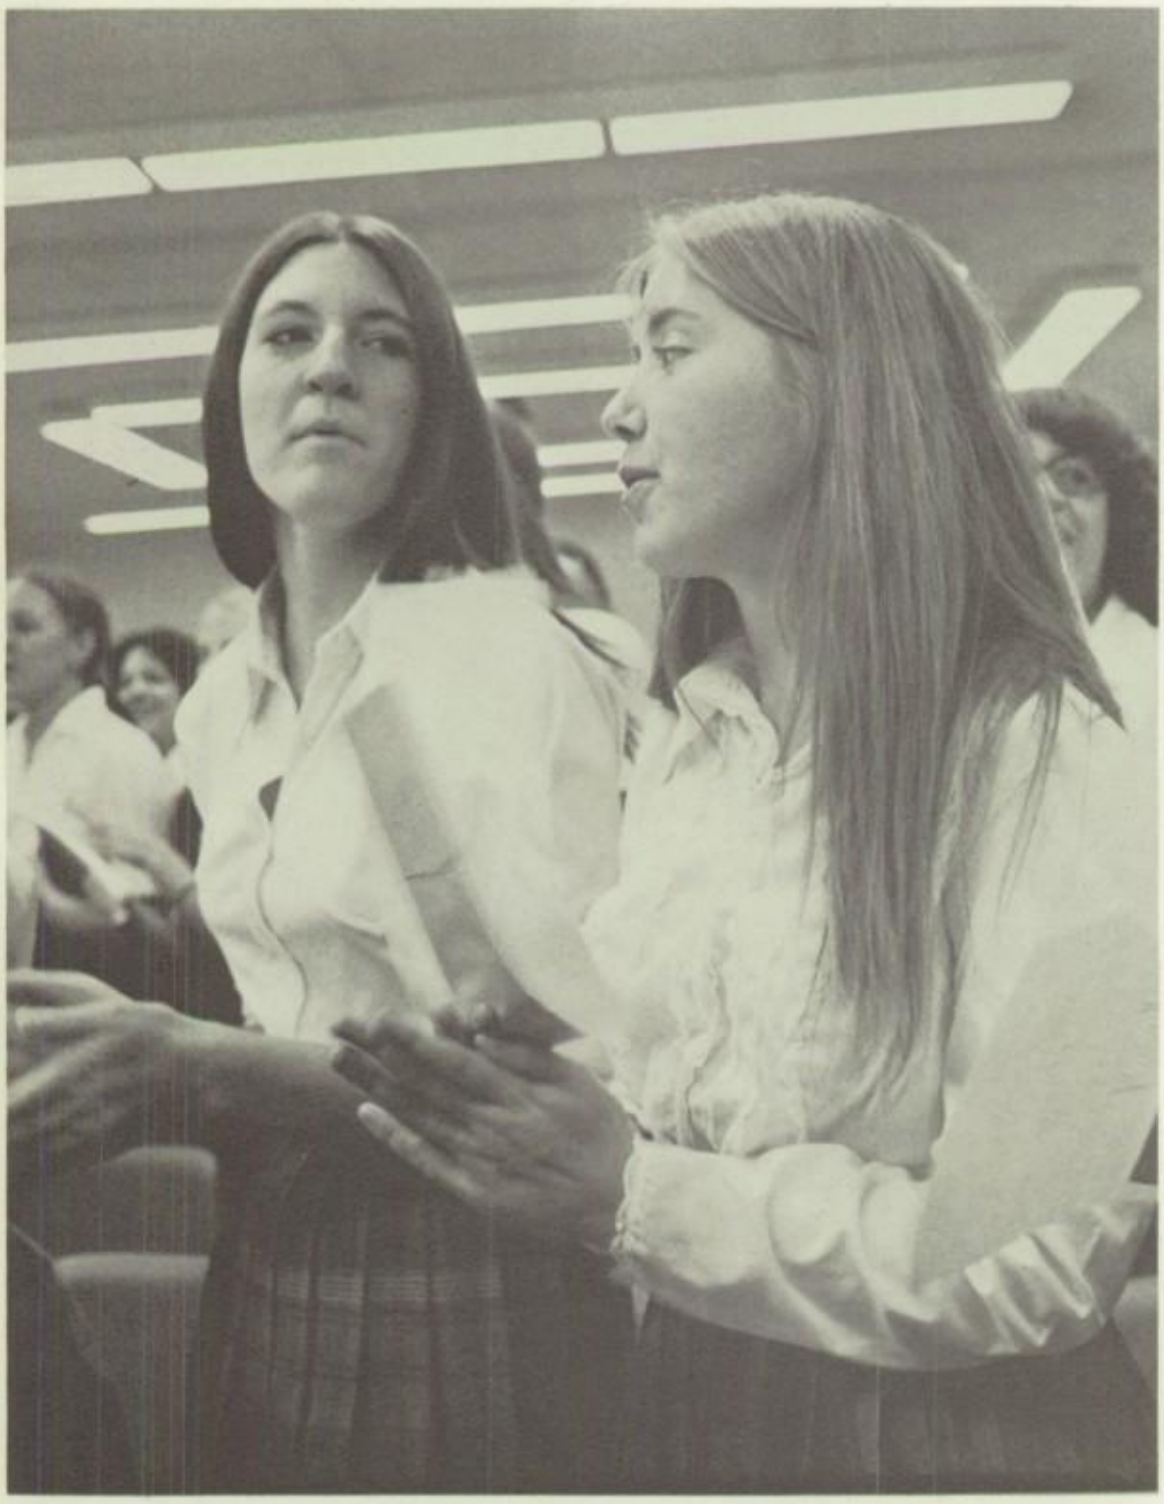
Miss America Pageant launches Ad Drive



The annual Ad Drive is one of the highlights of the opening of the school year. This drive stirs up class competition and much enthusiasm among the students. The main purpose of this activity is to finance the printing of the yearbook and newspaper.

Each student is required to sell at least one ten dollar ad. This will enable her to receive her annual free at the end of the year.

The theme of this years Ad Drive, 1973—74, was "The Miss America Pageant." Each division had two representatives in the skit that launched the drive.

After a slow start, the results came booming in. The freshmen came in first with a quota of 198%, seniors were second with 174%, sophomores held third place with 132%, and the juniors were close behind with 130%.

A continuation of the night's festivities

From the land of Oz came, "There's No Place Like Homecoming." Excitement was high, although the Broncos were deafeated by the Cortez Colts in a 30—28 decision. Halftime was brought to you by Mike Mangin and his hilarious jokes while everyone waited in anticipation for the candidates and their escorts to arrive. Last year's queen, Dee Kruckerburg, crowned the new queen Kim Anderson.

Parents, friends, and faculty, along with the Munchkins from Oz, were on hand to congratulate the new queen and the other candidates.

After the game, the crowds moved over to Brophy gym for a continuation of the night's festivities . . . dancing to the Bob Meighan Band and a skit from the Wizard of Oz.

The father-daughter breakfast is over for another year. Thinking back, you realize it wasn't so bad after all. True, the eggs were rubbery and you got a little tired of hearing about football odds or whether Nixon should or shouldn't be impeached.

But the important thing is that for one morning you realize how proud you really are of your dad and how much you do love him. That morning you weren't embarrassed to kiss him at Mass. Maybe that's the best reason for having the breakfast—it gives you the chance to show your dad how much you truly appreciate him—something you might neglect to do unless given this opportunity every year.

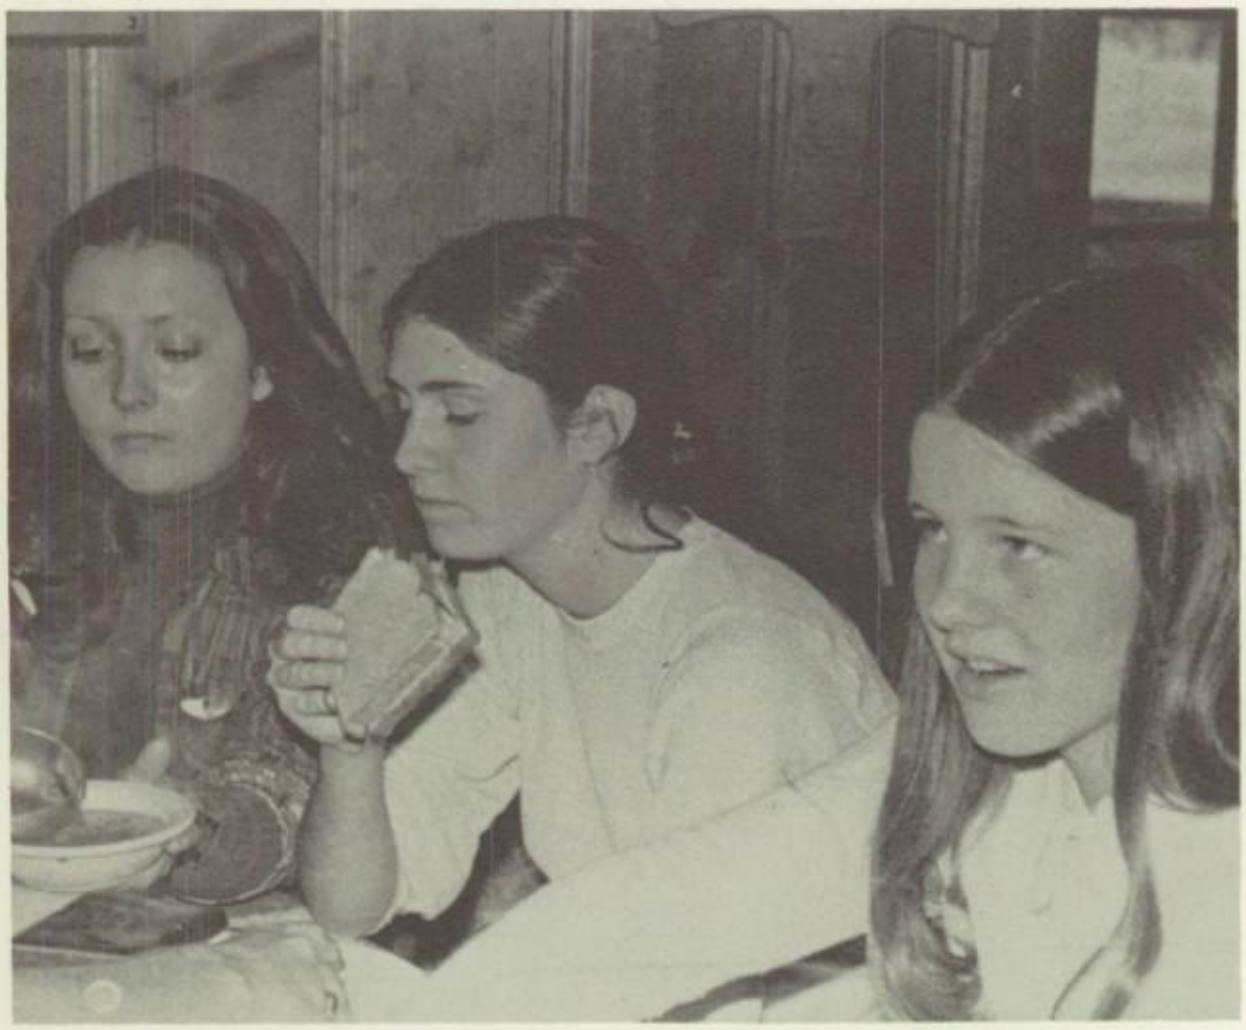
Retreat-- it finally came . . .



The Senior Retreat was a time of great relaxation. We could just sit back, watch a movie, wear our cowgirl hats, snooze under a pine tree, or get into a heavy discussion on the psychology course that Father Barry presented.

There was a serious side to the retreat also. We realized that this was probably the last time we would all be together, so we really made the most of it. We especially listened to each others ideas and theories about friends, life, love, and God. We gained the knowledge that people, not things were important.

The best thing the Senior Retreat accomplished, was the realization that all of us were individuals, yet we needed each other to grow.

. . . and we made the most of it

"I'm okay, you're okay," was the theme of the first renewal day.

Many people educated in the field of theology were on hand to conduct and participate in seminars and a Mass. Many agreed that this was a very worthwhile day.

The school renewal-- to revive, renew, relive

BROPHY BEATS ST. MARY'S

We didn't think they would, but again, Brophy came through with a decisive 22—3 victory.

Anyone would agree this was a superb performance. Many students, faculty, families, and alumni turned out for the rivalry between the two schools.

After the game, everyone celebrated the victory.

A presentation, "Color My World," directed by Sister Kate, and performed by the choral group, was delightfully done.

Ceramic creations, hand made jewelry, and original paintings were some of the art works displayed in the Fine Arts Week exhibit in Lutfy Hall.

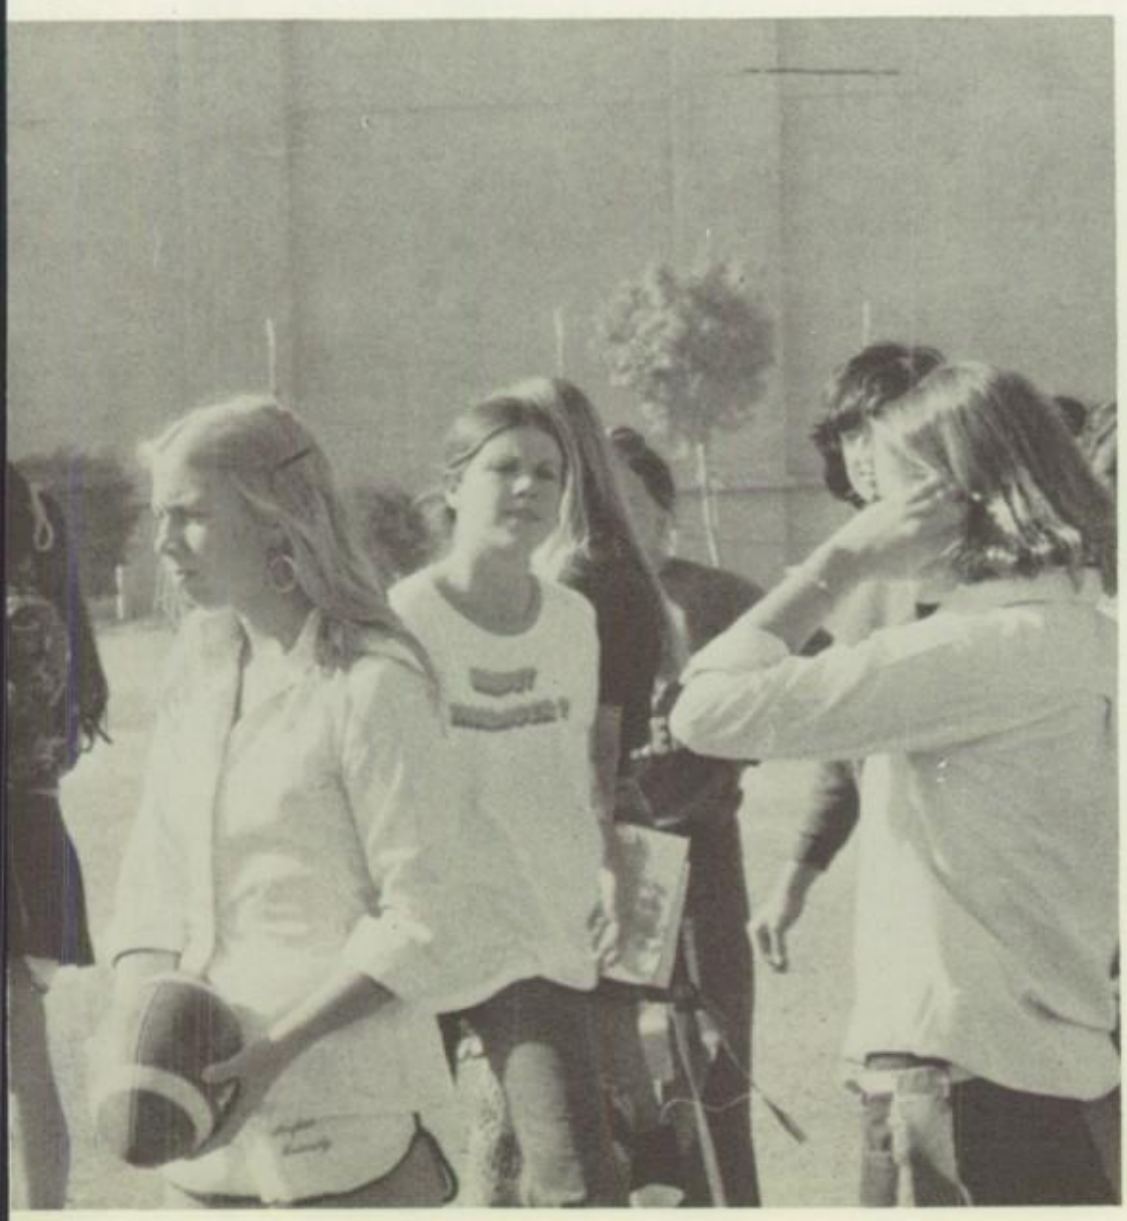
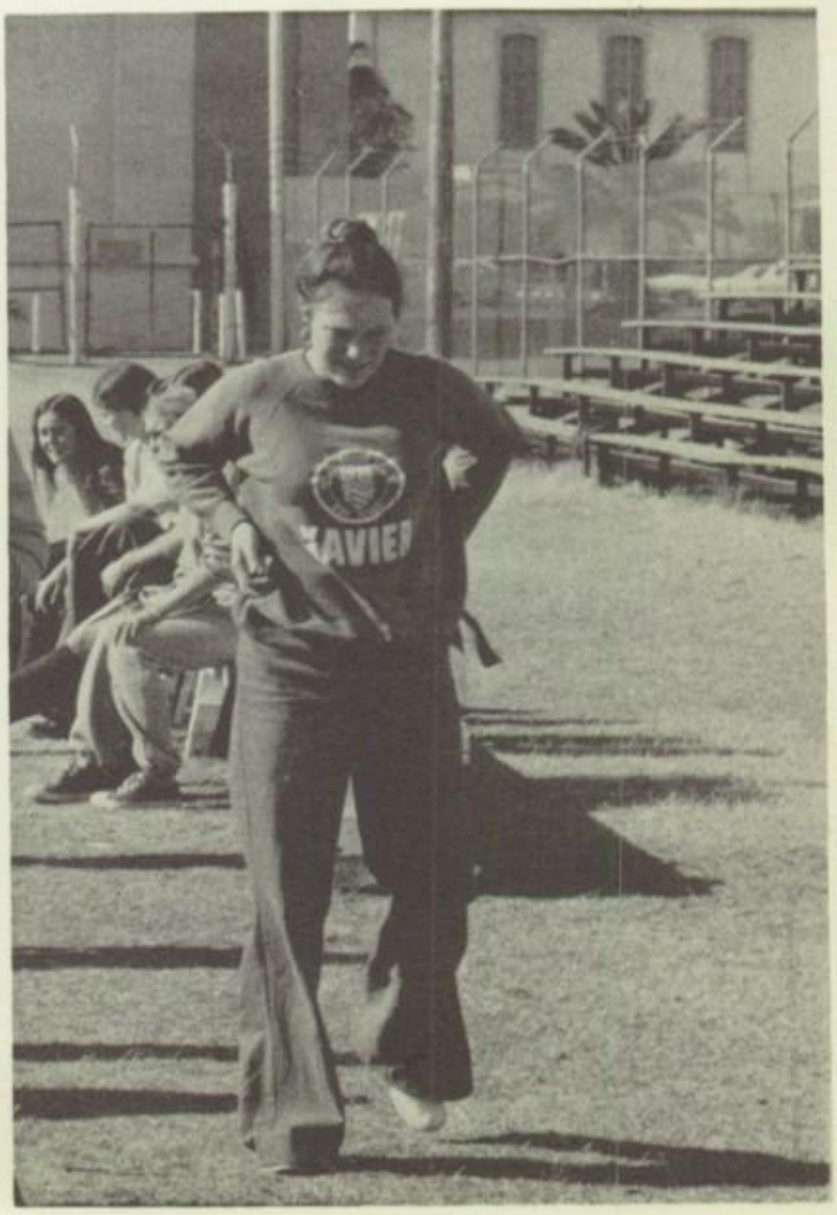
Xavier flexes it's muscles for Pisinimo

The second annual Pisinimo football game was held in an effort to raise money to give the Pisinimo Indian community a happy Christmas.

Guys-vs-the girls in an all-out gutsy game of football provided fun for the teams as well as generous contributions.





A very merry Christmas

Xavier has adopted the Pisinimo Indian village. For as long as we can remember, every year at Christmas Sister Annette has brought her band of friends to visit us at Xavier. This year the second graders came to provide us with a show of songs and smiles.

In their innocence they created within us, the inspiration and enthusiasm to promote a successful drive and a happy Christmas.

'Visions of Sugar Plums'

This year the Christmas dance was held in Lutfy Hall. The theme was "Visions of Sugar Plums."

Although there were many complaints among the senior class because of the dance being in the hall, it proved to be an enjoyable one. The band was "Rush." The decorations were simple. The luminarios on the building and grounds were very effective and gave a soft glow to the nights' activities.

The Little Theater was turned into the refreshment room with Trish Kahley and Donna Kucharski serving Mary Anne's sparkling green punch. Even Madeline did a rendition of her famous Barbara Streisand act—live and in person for those around.

Candids

Your friend is your needs answered.
He is your field which you sow with love and reap with thanksgiving.
And he is your board and your fireside.
For you come to him with your hunger,
and you seek him for peace.

When your friend speaks his mind you fear not the "nay in your own mind, nor do you withhold the "ay."
And when he is silent your heart ceases not to listen to his heart;
For without words, in friendship,
all thoughts, all desires, all expectations are born and shared, with joy that is unacclaimed.

Life's little pleasures are shown in individual expressions.

They can be found in homecoming queen nominations, Pisinimo powder puff cheerleaders, assemblies that present a new light on an old subject, a high grade on a final paper or just teen-age couples gazing into the morning sky.

These few little pleasures make it seem almost worthwhile to struggle through the rest of life.

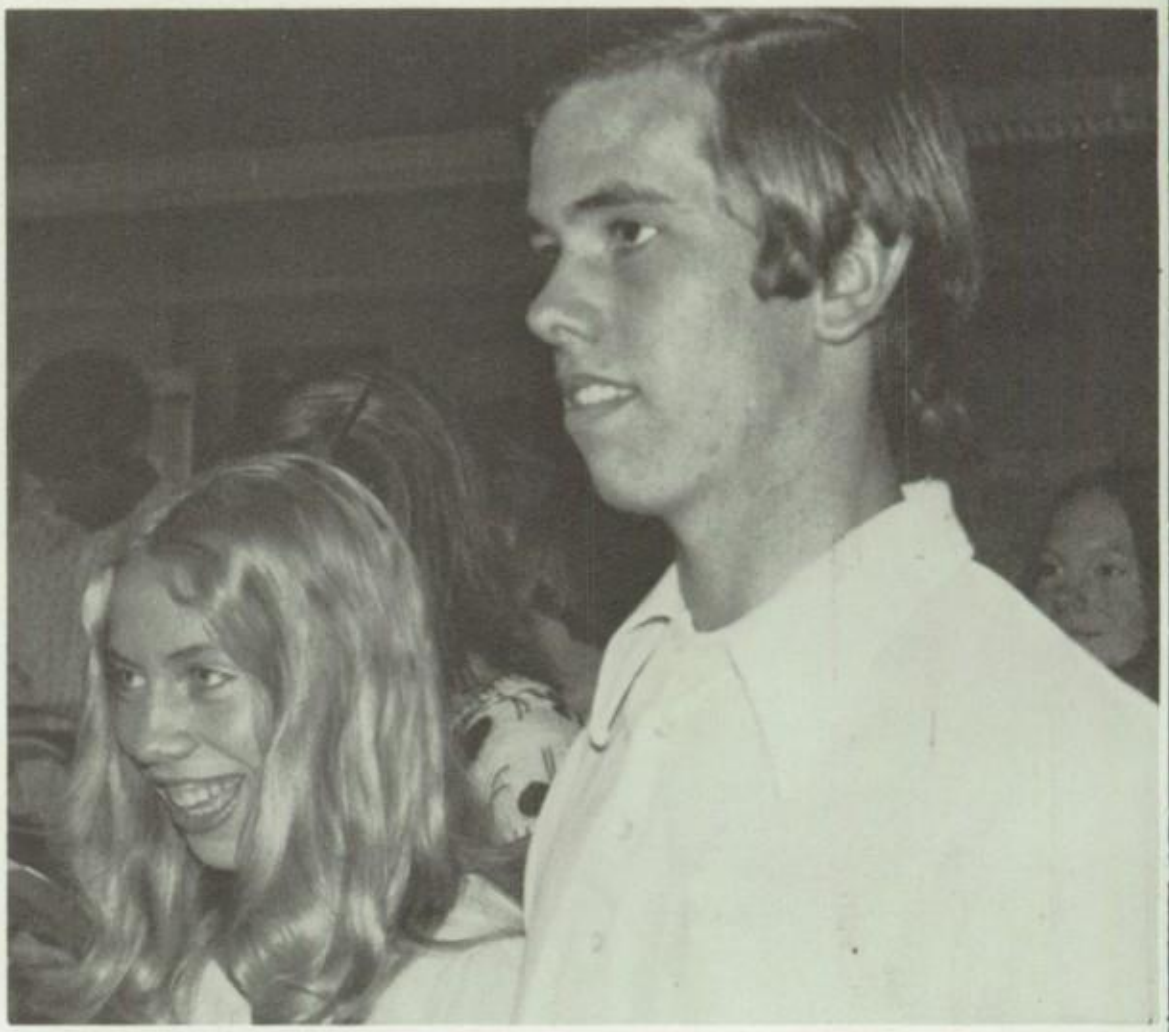
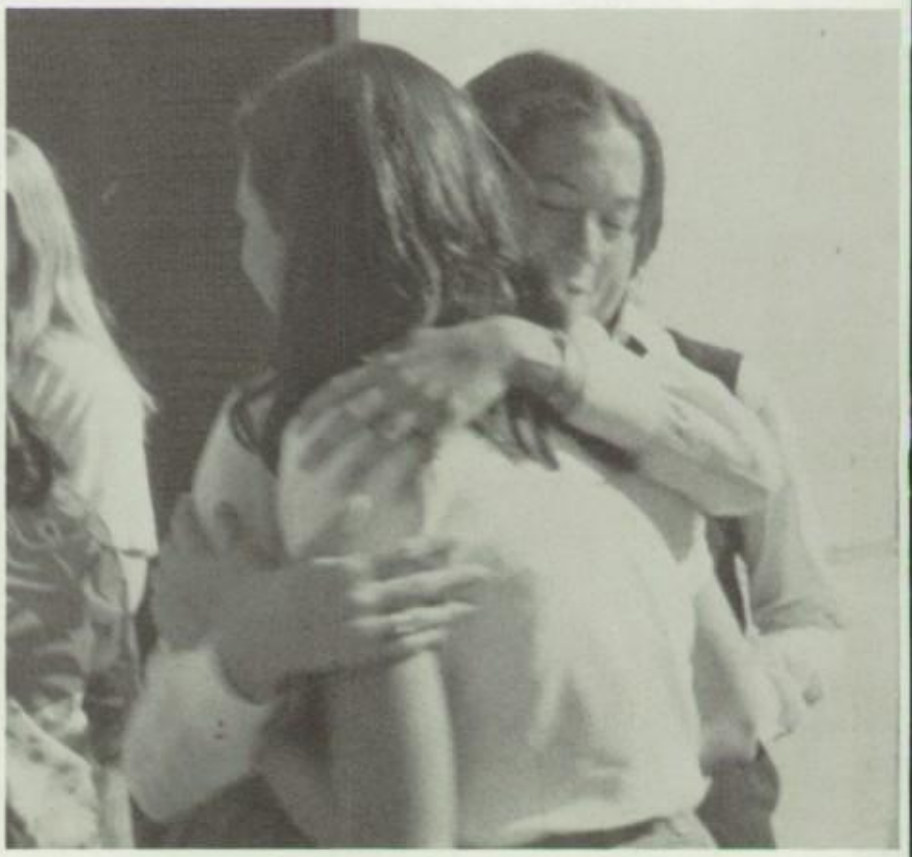
There's that "special" friend

Doesn't it always seem that it's someone you don't expect that's there with a hug when you need it most? Or there to speak up and defend you when it seems you're fighting a losing battle?

Be it girl, boy or man's best friend, things just always seem to turn out better when you have that "special" friend to be with you.





Clubs

Make new friends, but keep the old;
Those are silver, these are gold.
New-made friendships, like new wine,
Age will mellow and refine.
Friendships that have stood the test—
Time and change— are surely best;
Brow may wrinkle, hair grow gray;
Friendship never knows decay.
For 'mid old friends, tried and true,
Once more we our youth renew.
But old friends, alas! may die;
New friends must their place supply.
Cherish friendship in your breast—
New is good, but old is best;
Make new friends, but keep the old;
Those are silver, these are gold.

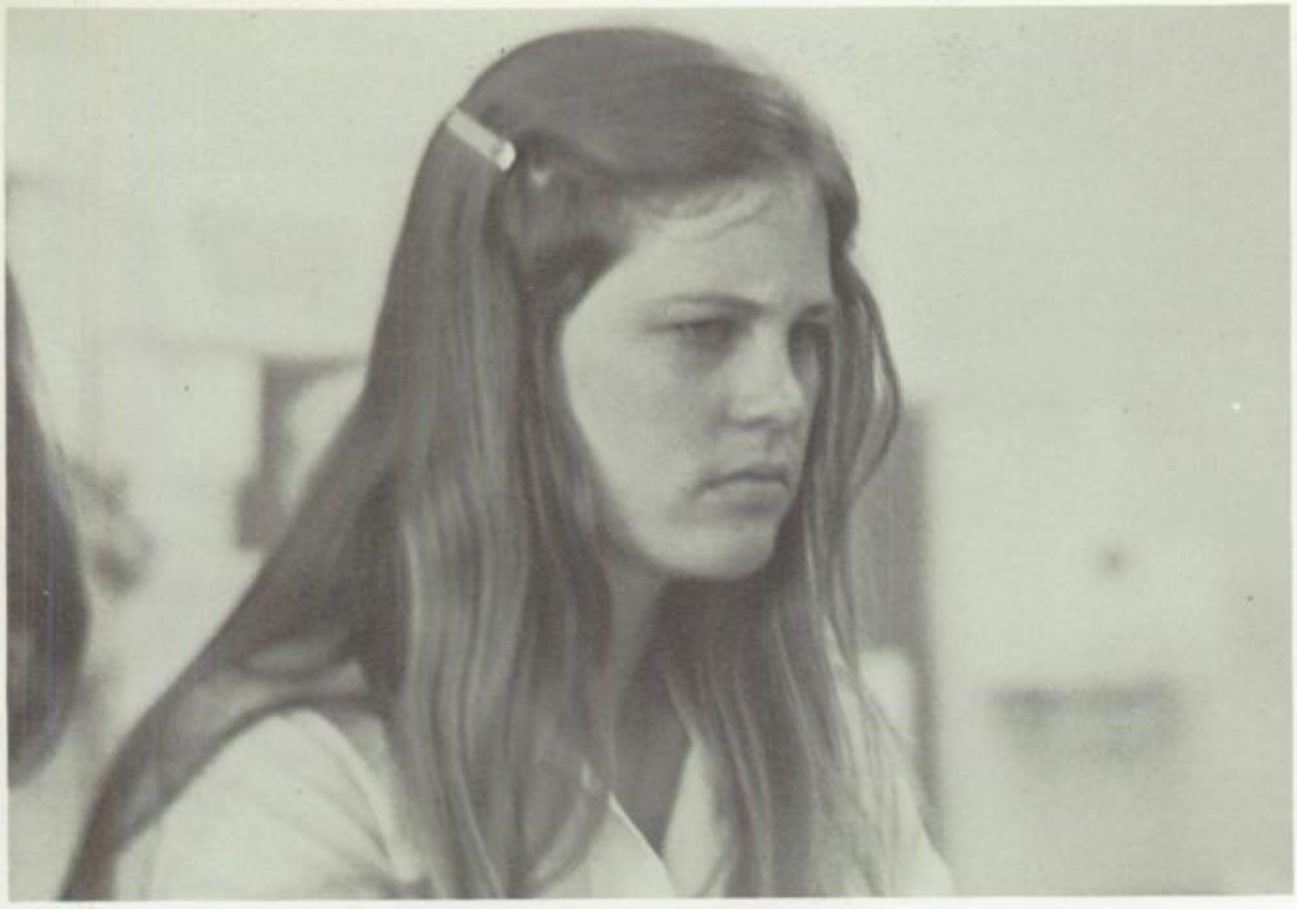
Student boards revise to meet students' needs



Rosie Appelbe.

What is student government? This question was thoroughly investigated by the members of the two student boards.

As a result of this investigation, with the help of Mr. Ron Shone, moderator, a serious problem revealed itself. The boards, although combined this year to form a complete unit, were not sufficient for any form of government to operate effectively. Only the nine members were learning the potential of government. The student body remained totally unaware.

The flaw was pinpointed as the lack of student responsibility towards government. The boards proposed a new three branch system, modeled after the U.S. government, which was unanimously voted in by the student body. It is hoped that this will help fill the needs of the students.

Education through experience

Education through experience—this is what Model United Nations affords the students who participate.

This year was special for Xavier's U.N. delegation. They had the honor of representing the United States at the annual Arizona convention. Xavier and Brophy students formed the largest delegation to the convention.

Six Xavier girls represented the school at the North American Invitational Model U.N. in Washington, D.C. They were Margaret Reardon, Debbie Swartz, Mary Hilger, Julie Breed, Cappi McCormick and Frances Burns. Mr. Ron Shone is the moderator.

X-Press. . . a learning experience

No news is good news—except when it means an awful lot of white space in the monthly edition of the X-Press.

And so, with the deadline hanging overhead and time at her back, the X-Press editor goes through the first phase of the struggle of putting out a paper.

More than anything else, the X-Press is a learning experience from start to finish. Invariably each staff member undergoes the trauma of missing a deadline or striking someone's sore spot with a mis-fired story.

The X-Press is a process of learning how to deal with administrators, advisors and printers and with delicate and mundane issues and personal procrastination.

It is a process of learning from mistakes as they become the irrevocably printed word.

Give me

Give me a B...if you attended a Brophy football or basketball game this year, this cheer will ring a bell.

The Xavier varsity cheerleaders put spirit into the games. This year's line consisted of six girls, Nan Davies, captain; Sheri Valent, co-captain for football; Susie Bool, co-captain for basketball; Diane Reedy, Lisa Rider, and Sharon Seivert. Miss Brenda Henderson was the sponsor.

Backing up the cheerleaders at the football games were the tumblers, Lea Saillant and Kathy Aiello, and six Brophy cheerleaders.

The girls helped team morale all through the season. They delivered surprise boxes to players before the games, decorated lockers, made posters and gave "good luck" bubble-gum to the team before each game.

Plans for next year include new uniforms, a line of eight girls, a pom line and maybe even a band!

Golf team sinks another season

It's hard to put together a girls' golf team, and the fact that Xavier has one is a credit in itself. Finding five girls out of five hundred who play golf is a difficult task.

The five members of the 1973—74 varsity golf team are Vicki Dolan, freshman; Kathie LoPiccolo, sophomore; Kathy McDonnell, junior; Nora Hannah, junior; and Cathy Lawless, senior. The team moderator is Mrs. Margaret Ingraham.

The golf team did not play in the annual state tournament, but all the members felt that it was necessary to continue the tradition of having a team, especially since Xavier is the only private school to do so.

Xavier got right into the swim of things this year and initiated a girls' swim team.

Miss Hellen Carter and Mr. James LaCasse, S.J., were the coaches. Sister Mary Faith was a loyal supporter. They got the program off the ground and into the pool.

The first season was an amazing success. The team produced a 7—1 season record. They captured a division title and the state championship.

The diving team was small but rose to tremendous heights. The divers were Mary Beth Yockey and Ctessy Bomar.

Skiing is rapidly becoming one of the most popular sports in the country. Xavier, being the school it is, did not want to be left behind.

Several one day ski trips were planned for Xavier and Brophy students. The schools responded with overwhelming enthusiasm.

Beginners soon realized that learning to ski was a little more difficult than strapping on the skis and taking off. Sore muscles were a constant reminder of their attempts for a week.

The club is a great success and a tremendous experience. Come next winter it may be impossible to find anyone in Phoenix—they'll all be out on the slopes!

National Honor Society members are upperclassmen selected by the faculty for scholarship, leadership, service and character. This year, the group sponsored the Pisinimo project and student tutoring.

Junior Honor Society are underclassmen selected for the same four reasons. They are responsible for raising and lowering the flag each day. JHS helped on the Pisinimo drive and planned the Christmas Mass.

Faculty

I love you, not only for what you are, but for what I am when I am with you. I love you, not only for what you have made of yourself, but for what you are making of me.

I love you for the part of me that you bring out. I love you for putting your hand into my heaped-up heart and passing over all the foolish, weak things that you can't help dimly seeing there, and for drawing out into the light all the beautiful belongings that no one else had looked quite far enough to find.

Perhaps that is what being a friend means after all.

A few words from the administration

To the Yearbook Editors and Staff—

Congratulations! Each year a dedicated group of Xavier girls gives time, talent, energy to create a publication which will epitomize the year. Students, faculty, activities, academics must all have their place. Some years, the balance is a bit lop-sided; others, it seems that the spirit of our Xavier community is caught and made enduring by the sensitive ingenuity of writers and photographers. This would seem to be the gift of the 1973—74 yearbook staff. Thank you from all of us who benefit by and appreciate your gift of the 1974 YEARBOOK!

This year, the English electives have been, for the most part, very meaningful and helpful.

Some students still miss the traditional division courses, where you got a variety of grammar, modern literature, and writing. But those courses failed to concentrate on a particular topic, as the English electives did this year.

Many varied courses were offered, ranging from Film Study to English Literature to Communication Skills.

Also monthly outings were planned by Sister Carole, department head, to see such productions as The Homecoming, A Delicate Balance, and other filmed stage productions.

New discoveries of history--past and present

Many students have ventured into the past through our history courses. They are becoming more interested in their work with the aid of new teaching techniques.

Government classes use debate teams and social studies classes put on skits symbolizing certain times in history.

Many girls have stated that they enjoy these different ways of teaching.

Miss Margaret Sherwood, History.

Classes

And I am all alone, there is no one here beside me.
My problems have all gone,
there is no one to deride me.

But you got to have friends,
The feeling's Oh, so strong.
You got to have friends,
To make the day last long.

I have had some friends
But they're gone.
Something came and took them away.
And from the dusk till the dawn,
Here is where I'll stay.

Standing at the end of the road
Waiting for my new friends to come
I don't care if I'm hungry or cold
I'm gonna get me some,
Cause you got to have friends.

(From "Friends" by Klingman and Linhart)

Frosh get a lot of attention!

Freshman year is something that everyone at Xavier can appreciate—everyone's been through it.

The anticipation of high school—boys, dates, games, dances—didn't always come true. Xavier's class of '77 accomplished quite a bit this year, however.

The frosh mixer started off a year of fun with Brophy. A Sunday afternoon at Encanto Park began with canoe trips and ended with a plunge in the lagoon.

Big sisters were a great help in getting acquainted. Their efforts were rewarded with jack-o-lanterns for the juniors and Christmas stockings for the sophomores.

Freshmen all agree that it's not too bad being the "Frosh"—you sure do get a lot of attention!

What does the future have in store for us?

We only know about our own experiences—our sophomore bake sales and our fund drives selling stationary. We know about freshmen little sisters, dances, exciting games and afternoon lunches.

And we vividly remember the words, "Apple core, Baltimore. Who's my best friend . . . . . ?"

This year we have reached out to each other. Maybe we learned more about one another, through our exchange of ideas.

This year the class worked together some of the time—maybe, just maybe, we can keep this spirit going. Maybe we can increase our togetherness and use our knowledge and mature.

"Do you believe it? We're Juniors this year!

And with that realization, the class of '75 felt renewed interest. Xavier is their school and there is not too much time remaining to make their years at Xavier worthwhile.

You could hear, "This year I'm going to get involved." Pledges were made to overcome apathy and have the "new Xavier" emerge victorious.

Juniors got involved in student government, The X-Press, the yearbook, a chocolate drive, Genesis and the U.N.

The class of '75 is looking forward to their senior year . . . mighty, mighty seniors.

"Those were the days, my friend"

Maybe as seniors we have been spared the act of doing, being, and becoming. Have we missed out on life, or have we contributed to the betterment of ourselves? Entering our senior year we were confronted with new and changing experiences. College tests that dragged on for hours, college, counselors with no answers, college again, and finally—graduation.

Freshman life was simple and easy. All we really had to worry about were dates and rides to and from the athletic events and dances. And there was the Brophy-Xavier picnic at Encanto with pie fights, water fights, and boys.

As sophomores, we were entitled to go to the weekly Brophy-Xavier get-togethers. That's when we didn't have to worry about having parties, just going. That was the year when the soph's were really together. Remember how we filled so many rows for the Talent Show?? Remember Elvis and the Osmonds on stage and in person?????

Junior year. What can we say? So many things that we worked for—grades, recognition, Senior Banquet, rings, candy (that we still have nightmares about) . . . things we worked hard for. The night of the banquet, remember friends, fainting Mary, hippie Val, and Sister Scholastica prowling the convent floors.

Those days may be over, but there is still more to look forward to. Can you see us at graduation, walking down the aisle, dressed in white among friends and family? It seems scary to leave behind our friends here at Xavier, but we need room to grow, to become, to live. We needed each other and we will need each other in the years to come. If you go through life not remembering Xavier—remember your friends, the happy times and how they shaped our lives. Shalom, my friends.

Friendship is the intangible, unexplainable awareness one derives through being in the presence of another; the warm glow of comfort, permeating throughout the two, forming a circle of sunlight, allowing honesty, sincerity and love to abundantly overflow and leaving depression and hatred to decay in the minds of the insensitive.

"Is going places"

What's your favorite thing to do? Ski . . . play golf . . . hike . . . play tennis . . . ride horseback? You'll find all that and more at the baca grande–angel fire, New Mexico's four-season club-resort near Taos.

From the days of Kit Carson, when the Indians saw a mysterious glow over the mountains and called it "angel fire", this has been a special place. The kind of place that makes you come alive–clear blue skies, lush green forests and meadows, and the purest air you'll ever breathe. It's just plain beautiful.

And talk about excitement–angel fire Ski Basin offers the best in downhill and cross-country skiing from December to Easter, and the angel fire golf course is probably one of the trickiest (and most scenic) around.

The angel fire Country Club, which provides guests with luscious meals and nightly entertainment, is pretty exciting, too. So come visit angel fire . . . and come alive!

the baca grande

the baca grande-colorado prides itself on being called "a refuge for man". This means that we're not an ordinary developer–in fact, we've pledged not only to preserve, but to enhance the natural environment.

This historic 15,000 acres near Crestone, Colorado, was once part of a 500,000 acre royal land grant; now it is one of the finest recreation and leisure living communities in the country. The 40-room baca grande INN, designed by Bennie Gonzales, features dining, dancing, swimming, tennis, shuffleboard and a 14-acre lake. There is horseback riding, trout fishing, camping, hiking–in acres of unspoiled mountain country–all designed to introduce man to his environment . . . and maybe even to himself.

THE BACA GRANDE CORPORATION – helping man by preserving nature.

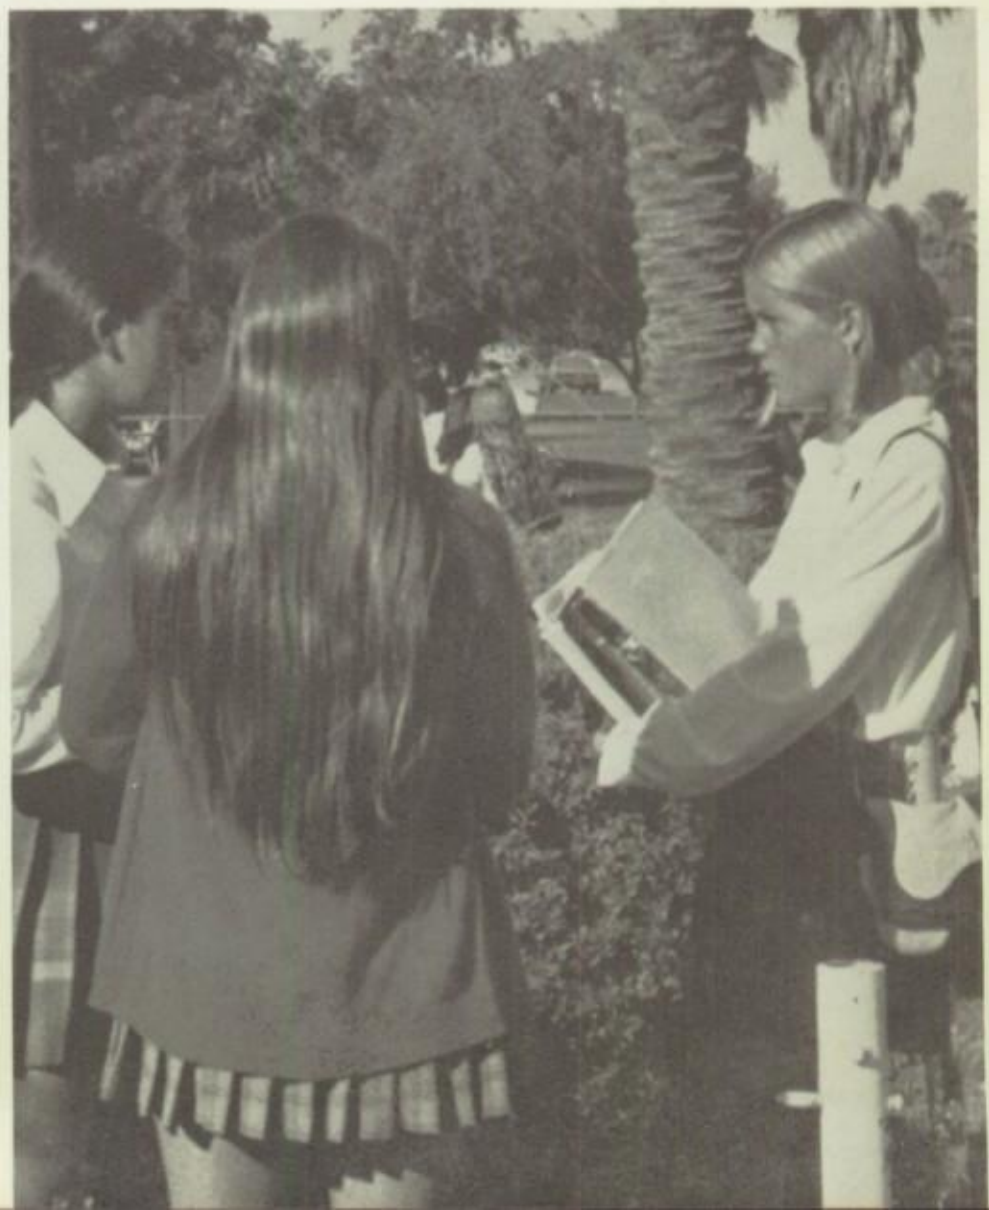
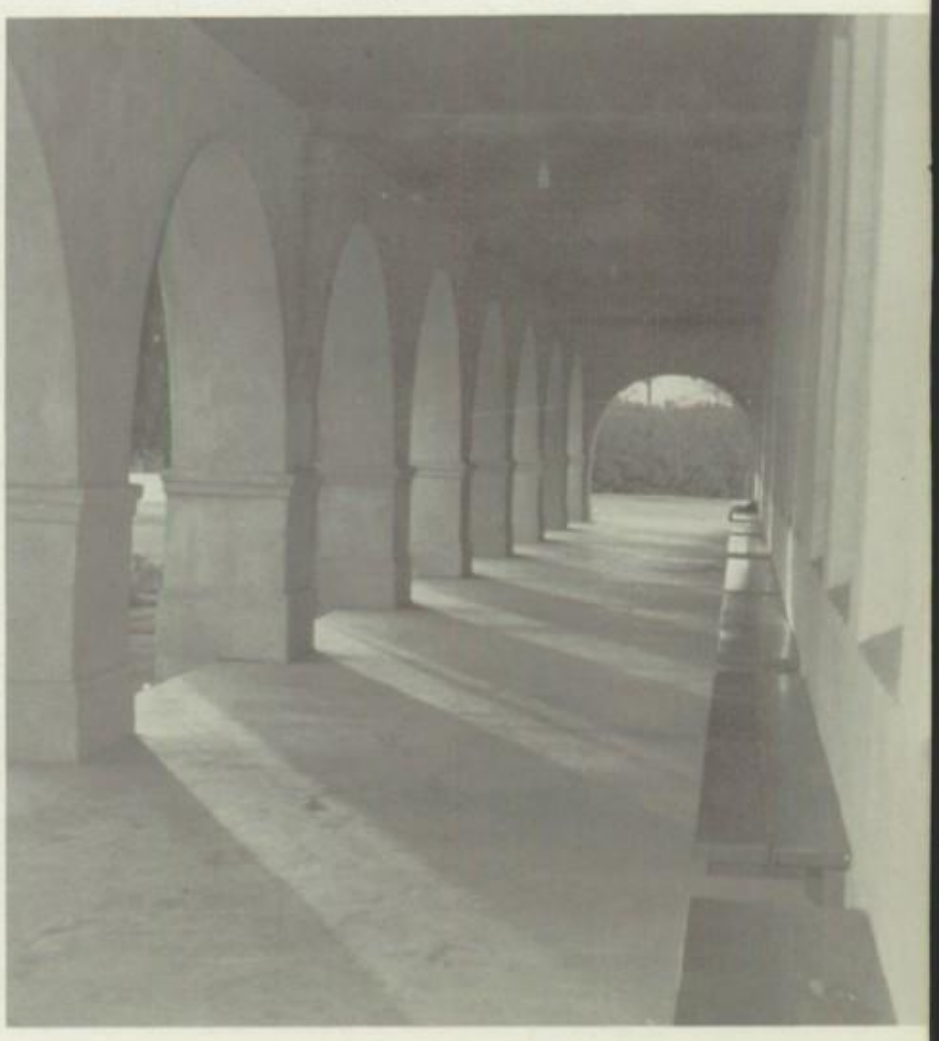
Hold on tight to those memories

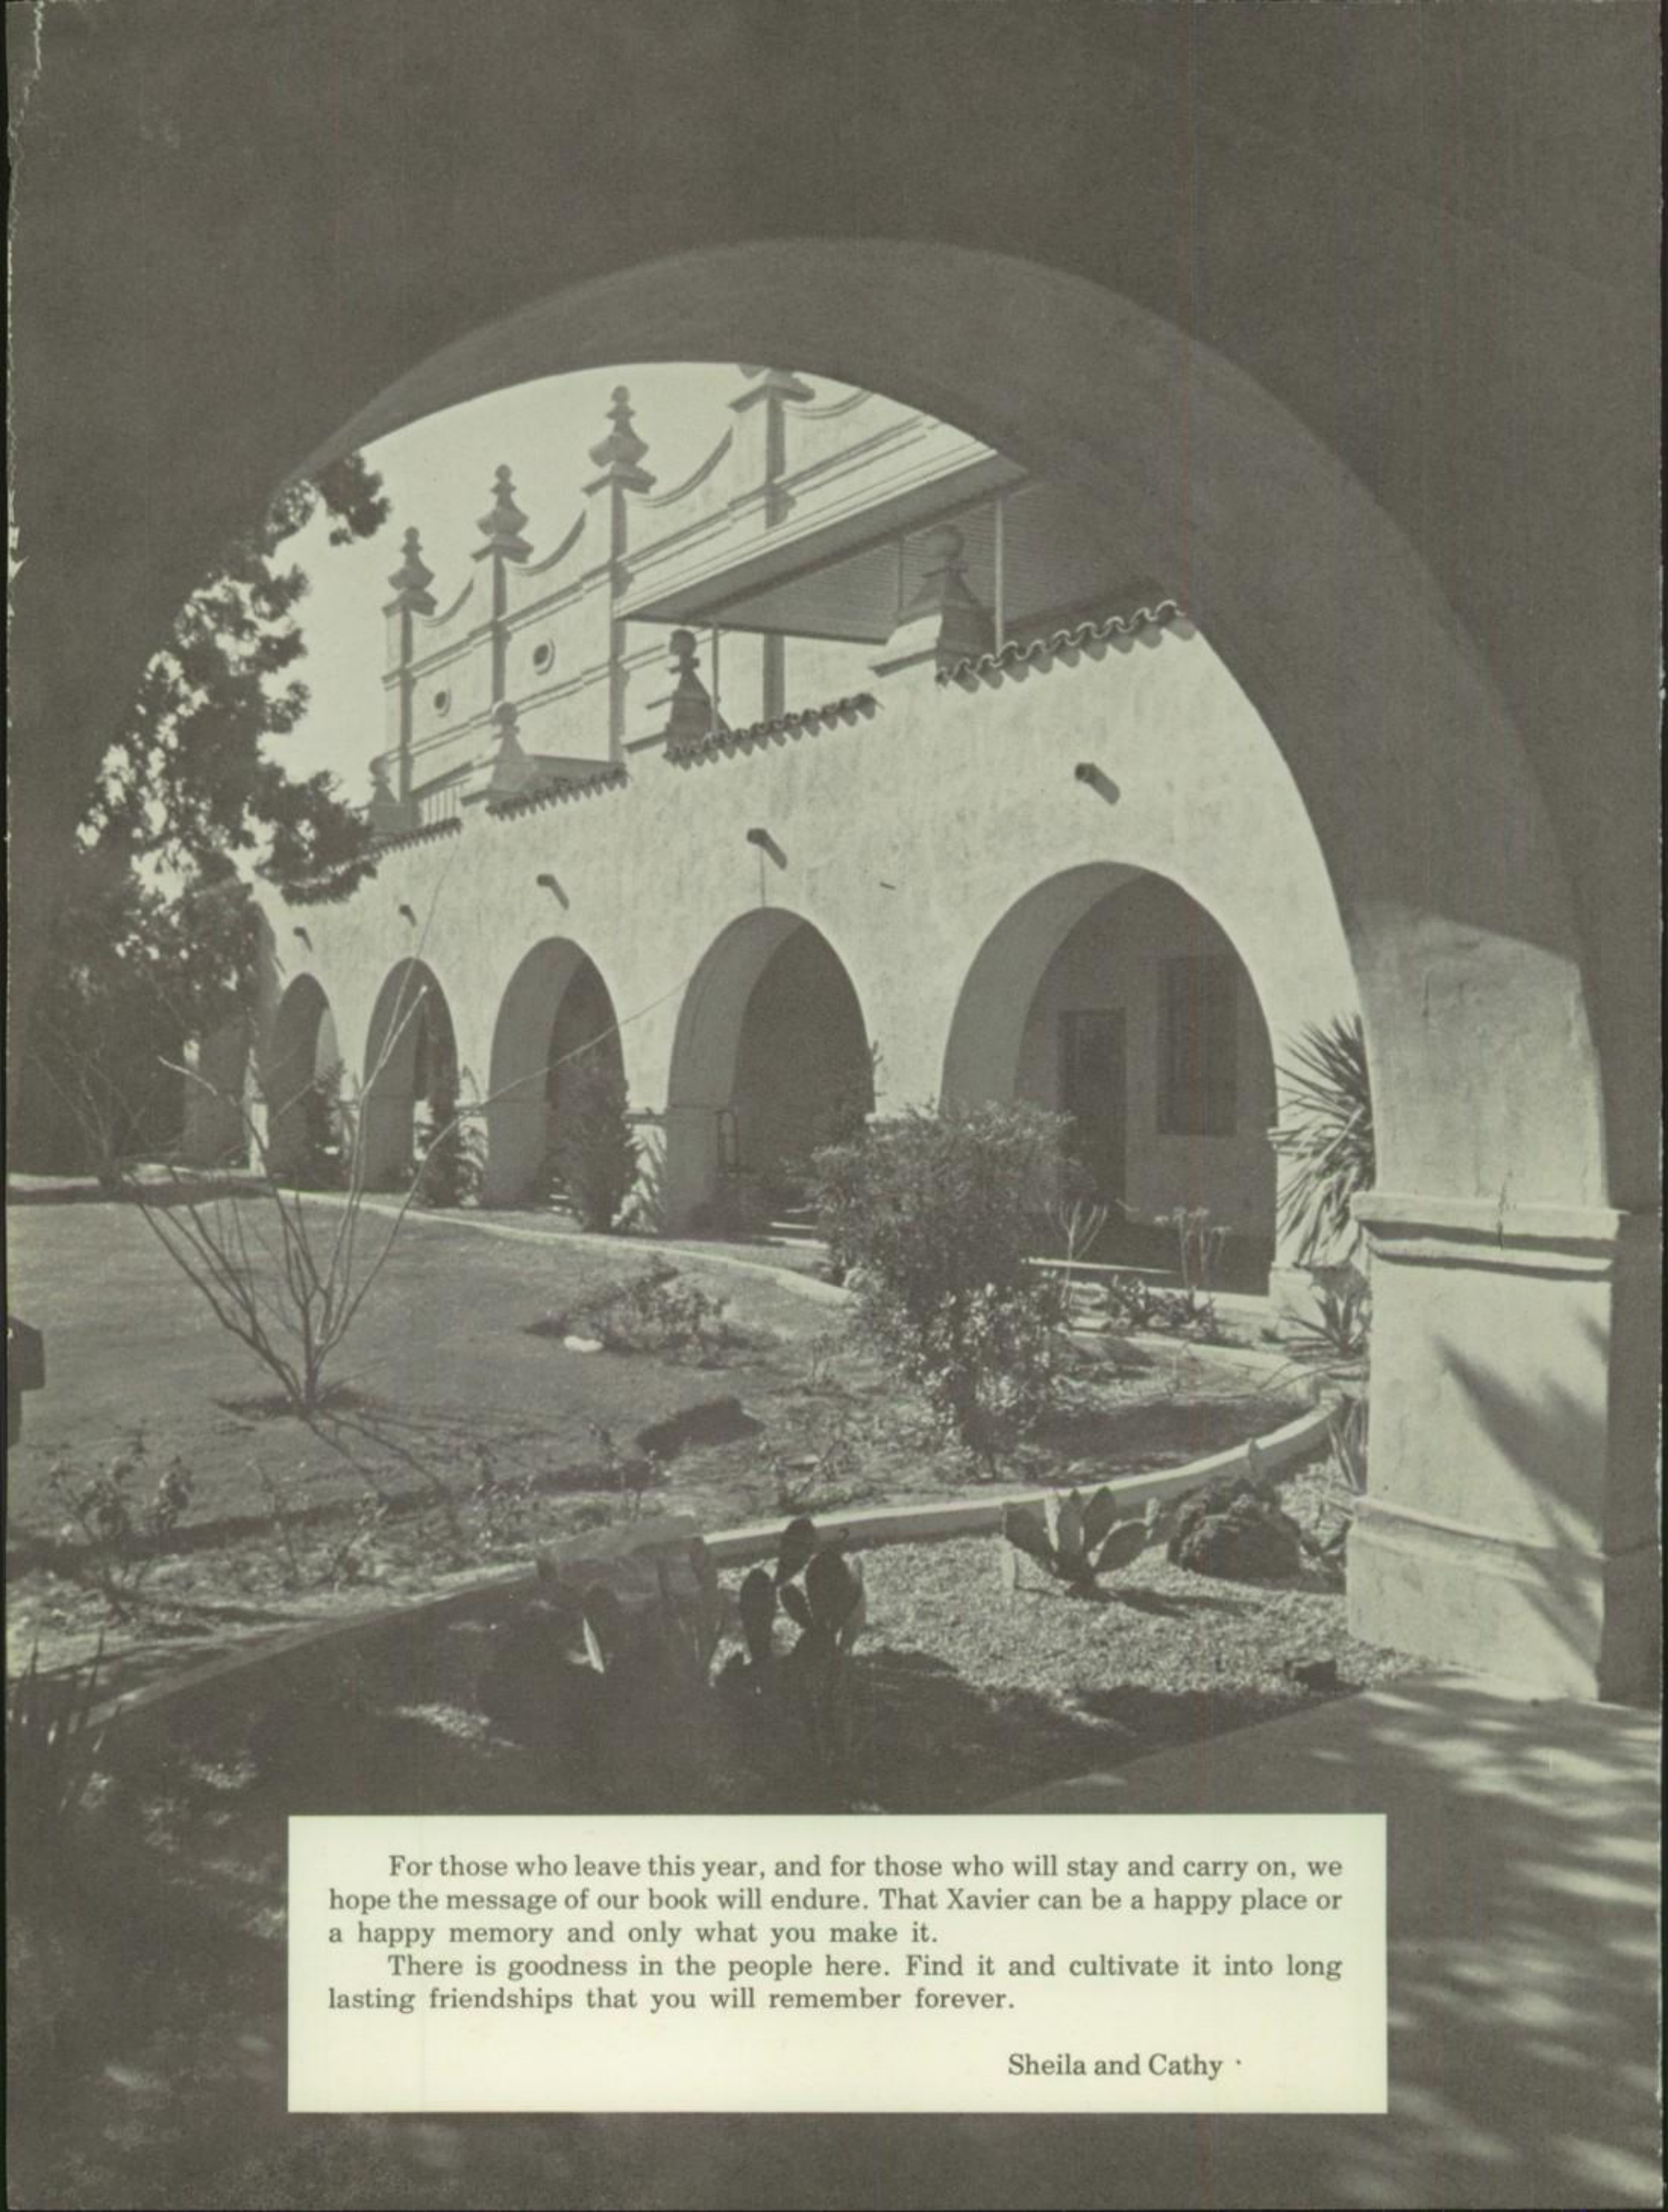
To leave a friend is to leave a very special part of yourself behind. All you have is memories. Hold on tight to those memories for they are more precious than can ever be known.



Remember the good things about your friends

The course of life makes it impossible for friends to always stay together. It's hard to separate, but when you do, remember the good things about your friends and the good times you had together. And you remember . . friends can be with you not only in person, but in thought.





For those who leave this year, and for those who will stay and carry on, we hope the message of our book will endure. That Xavier can be a happy place or a happy memory and only what you make it.

There is goodness in the people here. Find it and cultivate it into long lasting friendships that you will remember forever.

Sheila and Cathy

May 7, 1974

Claire,

I'm glad we became good friends this year. Without you this year of school would of been all work. But thanks to you we made it all play. Even though we flunked a few tests missed a few meetings, and chased a few boys it was all worth it. Look how much we learned from this year, not to ride on the back of boys cars, and from all those parties we have a lot more experiance if you know what I meen. Take care and maybe sometime this summer we could go to Bagel's for good old time sake.

Love,

Sheila
